Tickets, Please!

Artist Series reserved seat tickets for the Vienna Academy Chorus, which will appear on the Wartburg College campus Nov. 23, will be made available to students and faculty Nov. 13 and 14, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Debaters Resolve At Oshkosh State

Wartburg debate team will travel to Wisconsin State College in Oshkosh on Thursday, Nov. 13, to clash with the debate team there, according to Robert Smith, head of the Wartburg Speech Department.

Subject of the debate will be "Resolved, that the further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement."

Junior Dean Engbrecht and sophomore Ken Skala will take the affirmative while sophomores Deanne Stob and Lois Max will argue the negative side.

Regents Re-Elect, Ratify Proposals

By Ed Schaley

"Successful" is the word applied by Pres. C. H. Becker to Thursday's fall meeting of the Wartburg College Board of Regents. President Becker is ex officio member of the board and acting representative for the college.

Convening the entire day in the Faculty Lounge of Luther Hall, board members ratified all of the proposals directed by Dr. Becker's semi-annual report.

Officers Retain Posts

Dispensing with the election of officers first, Board members again voted Dr. Walter Voecks, Waverly, to chairmanship; Fred Lentz, Beatrice, Neb., vice chairman; and William Voigts, Waverly, as secretary. These are two-year terms.

All three officers, together with Mrs. Henry Graven, Greene, and the Rev. Louis Belk, LeMars, comprise the Executive Committee for the next two years.

NEUMANN ATTENDS COLUMBUS MEETING

Dr. G. J. Neumann, chairman of the Wartburg English Department, attended the Board of Publications meeting at Columbus, Ohio, last Tuesday.

This was an organization meeting of the board which controls the publications of the American Lutheran Church. This same board grants members of the Wartburg College Journalism Department $300 in scholarships annually.

Chaplaincy Approved

Among recommendations in Dr. Becker's report, it was decided to ask St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Waverly, to call the Wartburg chaplaincy candidate as a member of its staff in addition to college duties.

Admitting the need for increased tuition at Wartburg, the Board decided in favor of Dr. Becker's proposal to make a separate charge of $52 per year for necessary student fees, which would be in addition to the present tuition sum of $500.

When other Iowa colleges have ratified a state proposal to increase the amount of down payment made by registering students from $25 to $50, Wartburg will follow suit as a result of Board approval of this plan.

Cost Not Additional

In clarification, Dr. Becker commented that this down payment would be applied as part of the regular payments now made by students, not as an additional cost to the student if he completes his registration.

Warren Schmidt, Music Department, was granted a leave of absence for the 1959-1960 school year to complete work on his doctorate at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Exact date for dedication ceremonies of the new Wartburg College Library was left to the discretion of a college committee to be appointed. Plans still call for the library to be dedicated before the end of the current school year, according to Dr. Becker.

Chapel Bids Coming

Bids for the new chapel-auditorium will be received on Nov. 19 as approved by the Regents. Wartburg will proceed with the bid letting and accept contracts even if the approved bids exceed the original $200,000 grant by the American Lutheran Church.

Vacant space occurring when the present college library is moved will immediately be remodeled into classrooms and faculty offices.

Noted Photographs On Display In FAB

Photographs by John Szarkowski, which were made on a grant from the Minnesota Centennial Commission for a book, are now on exhibit in the Fine Arts Building daily except Sunday, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., until Nov. 27.

Mr. Szarkowski's photographs, which were taken for the book "The Face of Minnesota," have been on exhibit at many art galleries and museums in the United States and abroad, such as the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, the Art Institute of Chicago and the Museum of Modern Art, Tokyo, Japan. Szarkowski's works were borrowed through the interests of the Circulating Exhibitions Program of the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis, Minn.

Community Group Prepares Concert

Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Ernest Hagen, Instrumental Music Department, will present its first concert of the 1958-59 season on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium.

Vernon Lestrud, of the Wartburg Speech Department, will be the guest soloist of the Armistice Day concert. Lestrud, tenor, will sing Mendelssohn's "If with All Your Hearts" and "Sylvia" by Speaks.

Wartburg's Castle Singers, directed by Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, of the Music Department, will present "Ave Verum Corpus," a Mozart Motet for chorus and strings, at their traditional appearance with the Symphony.

Numbers to be performed by the orchestra that evening include "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor" by Handel and Kindler; "Adagio, from 'Toccatina and Fugue in C Major'" by Bach and Stokowski; "Waltz, from 'Masquerade Suite'" by Kahachaturian; "Tara, from 'Gone with the Wind'" by Max Steiner; and "Pastorale" by Haydn.

Twenty-two members of the Wartburg family will help to complete the group. Included in the violin section are Bonnie Lambert, freshman; Fred Landdeck, senior; Miss Erna Moehl, of the English Department; and Karen Nystrom, freshman.

The brass section is completed with Thomas Kay, Wartburg History Department, on trumpet; Carolyn Boebel, freshman, and Robert Pannkuk, sophomore, on French horns; Barbara Diers and Dennis Wendt, freshmen, on trombones; and Richard Neal, sophomore, on tuba.

Faith Dettmann, junior, and Karen Holm, freshman, on flutes; Catherine Carr, sophomore, on oboe and English horn; Pat Dietrich and Milbern Goetz, freshmen, on clarinets; Carol Schrage, freshman, on bass clarinet; and Gail Lovold, Sandra Kucera and Karlene Epley, freshmen, on saxes will fill out the woodwind section.

KWAR Tunes In Campus

By Gerry Dexter

"This is the radio voice of Wartburg College in Waverly, Iowa, KWAR — 89.1 on your FM dial."

Since its opening broadcast on March 12, 1951, the station has been providing both college students and area residents with a wide variety of programs designed to entertain and to inform.

Students Run KWAR

Students operate every phase of the station. Vernon Lestrud, of the Wartburg Speech Department, serves as adviser.

Programs are planned and produced by students who have shown a talent and an interest in radio work. At present those who are interested in radio have a choice of activity in any of the following areas: programming, engineering, traffic and continuity, publicity, records and transcriptions. Each plays an important part in the station operation, which is kept as close to professional standards as possible.

Currently a wide variety of programs is aired, including music (popular, jazz, show tunes, mood music and classical), educational, dramatic, religious, news and sports. All are broadcast at various times every week.

Working to Improve

The management of the station is continually on the lookout for new ways to expand and improve the station. This year several irons are in the fire, any one of which would be of great benefit to the station's listeners.

Among these are the addition

College Chaplain Attending Chicago Meet

The Rev. Edwin Schick, college chaplain, is attending the Luther League-Lutheran Student Association Conference today in Chicago at the Division of College and University Work office.

The conference is being held to create better relations between the two groups. Pastor Schick was invited to attend in the capacity of a representative of a church-affiliated college.

Members of the various Lutheran church bodies as well as LSA and Luther League members are attending.

The conference convened yesterday and will conclude today.

"THIS IS KWAR-FM, the voice of Wartburg College," says Bob Johnson, senior announcer on the student-operated station staff.

of another record service, becoming a member of a national educational radio network and the installation of an additional system of broadcasting, which would make it possible for the station to be heard in all dormitories. The latter is considered especially important because of the poor campus reception at the present time.

KWAR Still Growing

From its humble beginnings KWAR has grown to include separate studios, control room, record library and office. The program schedule has doubled in length over the years and is continually being developed to add greater variety and higher quality. Technical equipment is of better quality and general operating practices are constantly watched for areas needing improvement.

Like many things, radio stations included, KWAR has a slogan which it strives to live up to — "The finest in college radio." It's a good goal, one which those who work at the station will tell you is not taken lightly.

Got Opinions? What About?

THE WARTBURG TRUMPET
Saturday, November 8, 1958, Waverly, Iowa

"What is your opinion?" How many times have you been asked that question?

Why is it that you always seem to be fresh out of opinions when you're asked to defend yourself? Why is it one can hear so much muttering, but it's so difficult to find someone who's opinionated?

Just the other day, I heard you snicker when Tom gave an outspoken view of the world situation over coffee, yet I didn't hear anything constructive from you. Why didn't you disagree? By the way, whatever became of that letter you were writing to the Trumpet?

I notice you like to read the sports page in the Register every morning, but when the conversation turned to Pasternak the other day, I was aware that you left in quite a hurry. "Well, who's Pasternak? . . . just another Russian . . ." might as well take your attitude. It really doesn't affect us, does it? The world goes on without us, doesn't it?

Yet, you've probably heard much lamenting over Eddie Fisher's marital problems, or whether or not Starkweather's girl friend will get life or the chair. It seems obvious that you can hear opinions on some subjects today.

No, I don't know if classes will let out at noon before Christmas vacation — Oh, you're sure they do!

I heard you mumbling something the other day about elections and why you couldn't see any sense in voting. That's really the first opinion I've heard you express for some time. I'd be interested in hearing the rest of your argument. I'd like to know why you don't even vote as a student body member. It seems as though you'd be motivated to vote for something.

Actually, I was amazed to watch you climb out of the fishpond on Outfly. You really acted as though it were your own decision to enter those icy waters, when it was obvious that you were forced bodily into it.

You're certainly a difficult person to provoke, yet if we suddenly heard explosions all around us, I'm sure you'd be the first to panic; and if our radio and television communications were suddenly cut off, you'd be babbling about it. What's that? You say, "We'd all be scared!" Well, I guess you're right. See, you did offer an opinion.

If the world situation were suddenly dumped into our Midwest laps, we'd be making all sorts of decisions — probably — wrong ones.

What's the use! You've already begun thinking about your quarter bet on Saturday's game. You're positive the Hawks will win it? Well . . . another opinion!

"Sick . . . sick . . . sick . . ."

The Forgotten Generation — those freshmen who sit on the south side of the gym during convocation.

Now that everyone has recovered from the last two weeks' activities, it's time to get back in the grind and quit sleeping in convo — study!

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

Today Wartburg plays host to an expected 200 high school seniors, and tours of the campus are again a big part of the day's program. Tours of course, include the display of college housing units, which means that once again the camouflage of an adjusted systematic existence goes up. Tour guides, let no one either pull back the closet curtains or look under the bed.

Convo last Thursday was opened by Pres. C. H. (Ed Sullivan) Becker, who introduced Dr. Clemens Granskou, president of St. Olaf College. In his address Granskou spoke of the effects of automation. We were surprised that he neglected to mention the fact that, due to automation, housewives no longer have "dishpan hands" but rather "push-button" fingers.

You just can't win! Two conscientious math students stayed up so late one night doing their assignment that they slept till 9 the next morning. Their math class met at 8.

Men residents of Ketha House are sending out the cry, "Help us lead clean lives." This could best be accomplished by seeing that Ketha is equipped with a shower. The boys are tired of using ancient bathtubs, which have been replaced in every housing unit, except Ketha, by modern showers.

Word from the Wartburg Choir: Linkey, Jebson and Foege have reported that Duane Matz was elected lineman of the week for the choir team, which is playing churchyard ball while on tour. Matz gained the distinction because of his unprecedented maneuver of blocking three men simultaneously, two of whom, however, were his teammates. The choir team is playing in the Touring Miniature League, which restricts play to the use of a four-inch pigskin.

Knightman Ray Boyens is out of the line-up for the Central game because of an injury received in the Dubuque game. We hope that Ray will be up and around before too long. Boyens has been a definite asset to the victorious Johansen squad this year, and his splendid efforts will certainly be missed this afternoon.

Election day left many a G.O.P. candidate with a trunk full of disappointment. A candidate in this state proposed a three per cent sales tax with the increase to aid education. Voters evidently didn't like the three per cent idea. Let's hope it won't be assumed that they didn't approve of the idea of aid to education.

There is a definite advantage in not stating that you write the best of all. If you don't make the claim you don't have to make the boast good. Isn't that right, beloved TRIO?

Four-Fold Plan Necessary For Balanced College Life

Why are you in college? Possibly you came to school with the idea of improving and developing your mental capacity. Maybe you came here with the idea of increasing your social activity by your increased freedom. Could it be that you are here because you like to participate in sports?

Finally, maybe you are here because this is a religious college and you felt a need for religious development.

These are all good reasons if combined and integrated. William Danforth in his book "I Dare You" gives a four-fold plan of development which could easily be applied to our college careers: Think Tall, Smile Tall, Stand Tall and Live Tall.

This includes the mental, social, physical and religious aspects which should be like a square in which all sides are equal. We need each one to have a well-rounded personality and college education.

We have all the means necessary here to develop mentally. Our learned professors, our library and the academic atmosphere should help us to develop better. Our social life has a chance to mature by association with others here at school. Likewise, we have means to develop our physical abilities by sports and other recreation.

Let us not forget the last phase of this plan. This is the religious phase of our lives. We need to take our religion more seriously. We need to have a closer relationship with God.

Here prayer enters in, and we need to realize the power of prayer. Have we asked God to help us through this day and through this school year? Putting these four phases of life together, let us strive for more balanced living.

WE GET LETTERS

Unsigned Notes Violate Policies

Is everyone on campus satisfied with the Wartburg Trumpet? Is everyone on campus satisfied with all administrative policies? Is everyone on campus satisfied? Apparently some individuals are not satisfied, but the same individuals do not want their identity known.

We have been receiving unsigned letters to the editor all year. These letters are read only by the editors unless one of Charlie Pichelmeyer's janitorial crew should run across them while emptying wastebaskets. If you wish your name to remain anonymous, please state it on your letter, but the letter must be signed or it will be permanently filed — in the wastebasket.

Knights Treat Dutch At 1:30

Facing the Flying Dutchmen of Central College, the Wartburg grid team makes its final home appearance of the season today at 1:30.

In pigskin action this season, the Dutch haven't been able to gain the record they had in 1956, when they captured the title. They will be going into today's game with a 0-5-1 record.

Green Go The Dutchmen

The disappointing factor in the Central squad is a shortage of experience, which has also been felt by many other teams in the conference this season. The Dutchmen have only three lettermen returnees, senior halfback Darrell Brand of Sully, Graham Fee, sophomore quarterback from Knoxville and Tom Hall, sophomore halfback from Des Moines.

Big job for Coach Richard Tysseling this season has been rebuilding his squad in its entirety as a result of so many new men, both in the backfield and in the entire line.

Series Favors Central

Since the football schedule began between Central College and Wartburg in 1945, the Dutchmen have come out on top with four wins against two losses. In last year's contest, Central won by a score of 13-6 over the Knights.

While Wartburg blanked Dubuque 21-0 in last week's ball game, it also set a new record for the school of most games won in a season, as well as gaining one more notch toward the conference championship.

Score Made In Four

In four plays, after an interception by Tom Van Wyngarden on the Dubuque 47, Marv Ott scored on a keeper play from the 10-yard line. The second score for the Wartburg eleven came with only three seconds remaining in the half, after Jim Arjes intercepted another Dubuque pass. This set up a two-play drive, followed by a seven-yard pass from Boseneiler to Raper to hit pay dirt.

In the third quarter, Ott climaxed a 70-yard drive with a one-yard sneak. Dennis Krominga place-kicked all three of the extra points.

It's Good!

"TOED YOU SO," says sophomore kicker, Dennis Krominga, as he counts another point after in last Saturday's Dubuque action, won by Wartburg 21-0. Krominga hit three for three on the uprights.

'W' Club Picks Ott Oct. Athlete

Marv Ott, sophomore from Arlington, was selected as Athlete of the Month for October at Thursday night's meeting of the "W" Club, as announced by Pres. Gil Wesel.

Ott handles the quarterback duties for the Jomen, and last week he was rated 25th in passing and 30th in total offense in National Small College Ratings. In today's game Marv will be calling the signals again as the Knights attempt to cinch at least a tie for the Iowa Conference Championship.

Ott

Boyens

Ray Boyens, Harvey, Ill. junior, edged Jim Arjes 3-2 in voting for lineman of the week honors last Saturday.

Boyens played a bang-up game against Dubuque and has proof of it. Ray has been in the hospital all week with a severe leg ailment and will miss this afternoon's contest with Central.

From his defensive end position, Boyens consistently turned Dubuque runners to the inside, giving Knight linemen a chance to halt the Spartan offense.

Ray is the first Wartburg starter to be sidelined this season because of injury.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Last February we received a sports editorial from the University of Dubuque's college paper, THE CUE. The editorial thoroughly blasted Wartburg basketball players, their coach and local students for unsportsmanlike conduct while Dubuque was attempting to "freeze" the ball in a game on the local hardcourts.

While the writer continued to tab Wartburg as a misconducted group, he took a great measure of pride in patting his fellow schoolmates on the back for fine sportsmanship.

In rebuttal, the wish here is not to condemn the entire Dubuque student body, but merely to hope the actions of several Spartan football players during last Saturday's pigskin contest is not representative of said writer's concept of fine sportsmanship.

A Knight win today would assure Wartburg of at least a share of the conference title. A win over Simpson next Saturday, then, would give Wartburg its first loop championship in 35 years. This should certainly be cause for a day's vacation from classes.

But before students get too fired up about the day off, they must remember that should Wartburg finish the season undefeated, there is a possibility that the Knights may receive a bowl bid. Then, students may request a day (or even two) of excused absence to follow the team, and they would have already used their vacation.

A bowl bid could be in store for the Knights, if they finish the season without a blemish on their record. Coe College is also undefeated, but the Midwest League representative is thought to be in line for an NAIA bid in the South. That would then make Wartburg a candidate for the Corn Bowl in Evansville, Ill., later this month.

Tickets for the Danish Gymnastic exhibition Nov. 19, are on sale at the College Business Office, Meyer's Drug Store and College Hill Pharmacy. Price for Wartburg students will be four bits.

With basketball practice sessions in full swing, Coach Ax Bundgaard has nine lettermen and approximately twenty freshman candidates working out daily. More hoopsters will join the ranks at the close of the grid season.

Hardcourt future at Wartburg received a potential boost this week when all-stater Don Hein and Howie Simpson, both on Waverly's state tourney runner-up team last year, indicated they are going to enroll at Wartburg next semester. The two are now attending Iowa State College, Ames.

Seniors Here For Counsel

Wartburg College opens its doors today, welcoming the high school seniors who are on campus for the annual Fall Senior Day. Approximately two hundred visitors are expected, according to Duane Schroeder, News Bureau director.

Registration, tours, a welcoming program and three hours of counseling service made up the morning's activities. After a noon luncheon in the college cafeteria, the visitors will be given campus tours. Admissions counseling sessions will be made available to them, and they will be guests at the Wartburg-Central football game.

Market Class Plans Amana Colony Tour

Wartburg Marketing Class and Melvin L. Kramer, chairman of the Business Administration Department, will take a field trip to the Amana Refrigeration Plant in the Amana Colonies on Wednesday, Nov. 12.

After the class has toured the plant, Alex Meyer, Amana Market manager, will discuss the problems involved in the distribution of these refrigeration products all over the United States from the Midwest.

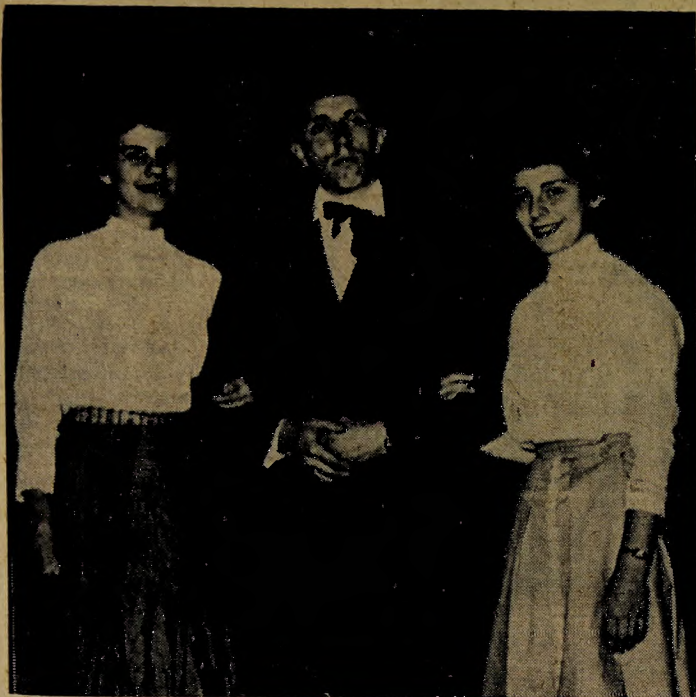

Campus Charities Chosen

Charities selected by the Campus Chest Committee were given the nod by Student Senate at its meeting Monday night. Senators also discussed the Pops Concert, Sir Victor and National Student Association dues.

Reporting on Campus Chest Committee work, Chairman Roger Buhr, senior, listed the following appointment in addition to $175 contributed to the Student Memorial Fund:

Senate Emergency Fund — 5 per cent.
Lutheran Children's Home, Waverly — 15 per cent.
Lutheran Student Action — 25 per cent.
American Heart Association — 15 per cent.
CARE — 20 per cent.
International Christian University of Japan — 20 per cent.

Veterans Day, 'Body Meeting On Convo Bill

The Hon. Fred D. Schwengel, re-elected this last week as Representative to Congress from Iowa's First District, will be the guest speaker at the annual Veterans Day convocation Tuesday. The monthly faculty and student body meetings will be held during Thursday's convo.

Wartburg College Band will also participate in the Veterans Day convo.

Student Body President Jim Schwarz, senior, will be in charge of the student body meeting Thursday. A portion of it will be devoted to an open Student Senate meeting to provide students with the chance to observe the senate at work.

The meeting will also be open to business from the floor.

If our harmony seems off, it's because we're one-third missing as long as Doc Lie-mohn needs our other alto. We'll try to give you all the notes as we hear them, and we hope they measure up to our expectations without too much discord.

See the 1958 prospective Conference champs at the last home game today at 1:30. Let's get out and give the team all we've got.

According to the correction at convo the other day, the Trio wishes to announce the meeting of the Phebes Sunday, Nov. 9, at 1:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge in Luther Hall

Pi Sigma is again aiding the social activities and is hoping that other organizations will take up the cup and follow. A demitasse will be given in Wartburg Hall Lounge between 12:45 and 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 9. All are cordially invited. This will be an excellent opportunity for everyone to practice his small talk.

Now they tell us they want academic life: now that mid-semester are over! The Academic Life Committee meets Sunday in Fuchs Lounge at 7:30 p.m.

While congesting the cafeteria lunch line at 11:15, you can look around for information about the campus movie which is to be held Friday, Nov. 14.

Shutter bugs, start shuddering! Especially if you don't plan to attend the Camera Club meeting on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 203 of Luther Hall.

Hans Sachs will sing some German drinking songs on Thursday night at 8 p.m. in Room 100 of Old Main. If you're lucky, maybe they'll have something to go with the songs.

We have now given you the bass notes of Wartburg life. We've tried to scale the heights of activities. The song is ours, and it's up to us as a student body if we want the melody to linger.

Do you let other people tell you what filter cigarette is best for you, rather than making up your own mind?

YES ☐ NO ☐

The fact is, men and women who make up their own minds—who think for themselves—usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you have answered "NO!" to six of the above questions—you are a man who thinks for himself!
